Dear Mr. Whearty:

In accordance with your letter of 22 January 1951, I have reviewed the ICIS report to the National Security Council entitled, "A Project to Provide a More Adequate Basis for Planning for the Security of the United States", and concur in the conclusions and recommendations.

Since the project involves the integration of intelligence on the USSR with information on the US, the authorization to obtain the assistance of other government departments and agencies, as described in paragraph 2 of the draft NSC directive, is essential if CIA is to undertake the project.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Whearty:

I wish to thank you for your letter of 31 January concerning the relations between this Agency and the ICIS Subcommittee on Entry and Exit.

We recently received a call from Mr. Salisbury of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, who is Chairman of this Subcommittee, asking if we could send a representative to a meeting of the Subcommittee which was to consider certain problems which Mr. Salisbury felt affected this Agency. We were pleased to designate a representative and feel that our work with the Subcommittee can be continued satisfactorily on this informal basis.

Your offer to furnish the requested report on control of departures, when this report is submitted, is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Captain, USN
Executive
